Lana Cao, Public Information Officer

Lana Cao is the Public Information Officer within the Department of Public Health (DPH). She has been with the County for almost 5 years. "Most of my time at DPH has been with Environmental Health Services. My biggest accomplishment so far was creating my first Learning with Lana educational series on YouTube where my first episode highlighted what an inspection at a landfill entails. I was given the opportunity to present "Learning with Lana" at the 2015 National Environmental Health Conference and Exhibition in Orlando, Florida. I was initially embarrassed about the project (I don't like being in the spotlight!), but I had such positive feedback and so much support from DPH staff that it made my experience more enjoyable!"

To decompress, I love going on food adventures to try new foods, watching LA Kings hockey, doing modern calligraphy and working on arts 'n' crafts. I also love the great outdoors and camping. One of my favorite things to do is rock climbing, both indoors and outdoors. The photo on the right is me climbing at the Mount San Jacinto State Park in Palm Springs.

Public Information

The Public Information Officer mainly handles the department's internal and external communications, which includes being the main point of contact between the department and the media, coordinating news releases and other information provided to the public, and managing the department website and social media. Did you know that the department is on a number of different social media platforms? We're on Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram!
